THREE AIRMEN DIE IN GREAT TRANS-CONTINENTAL DERBY

President Anxious to Work--Grayson Enforces Rest

STRENGTH RETURNING EACH DAY

Physicians Are Gratified by Improvement Shown in Condition—Wilson Better Than at Any Time Since Taken Ill Sept. 26.

NEWS OF GOVERNMENT ACTIVITIES IS BARRED

Absolute Quiet and Rest Orders Will Be Adhered To Strictly Until Strength Is Fully Returned—Royalty Expresses Sympathy.

The President had another day of improvement today. The 10 o'clock bulletin on his condition announced by Dr. Grayson read: "10 p. m. The President has had a good day but there is no decided change in his condition."

The President is certainly holding his own and doing a little bit better each day, according to Dr. Grayson. The past three or four days the President has confidently expected each morning that Dr. Grayson would permit him to arise, dress and get to work, and has been considerably disappointed when Dr. Grayson ruled to the contrary.

Drops Questioning. The President's digestive organs were in first-class condition yesterday, and the cooler weather of the past two days has truly been a godsend for him as he has been able to sleep long and soundly through the night.

Marked improvement in President Wilson's condition yesterday brought forth the most reassuring bulletin thus far issued by the corps of physicians interested in his recovery. He was stronger yesterday than at any time since September 26—the day upon which he was taken seriously ill at Wichita, Kans. He was more cheerful than usual, and eager to resume work. He asked innumerable questions about state affairs, the Industrial Conference, and other activities, and he was a trifle put out at the unwillingness of Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his personal physician, to answer any of his queries. The President said that so far as he was concerned "the campaign of silence was at an end."

He also told Dr. Grayson that he

WHITE SOX DOWN REDS 4-1 IN LAST STAND FOR TITLE

Cicotte, in Comeback Role, Tames Moran's Sluggers.

EDDIE COLLINS IS HERO

His Timely Bingles Drive in Runs That Spell Victory.

By DAMON RUNYON
Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 8.—Eddie Cicotte's baseball obituary is now recalled from circulation. The laconic epitaph: "All Through," which was written over the diamond career of the old shine ball king of the Chicago White Sox in the world series last week was erased this afternoon.

Twice beaten by the Cincinnati Reds in the battle for the championship of the baseball world, Cicotte came back in the seventh game of the series and led the Sox to a 4-to-1 victory.

Fight at Home Today. He carried the fight back to Chicago and the home field of the American League where the eighth game will be played tomorrow afternoon. The Reds have won four games and the White Sox three, the Chicago club taking two games on the Reds' own field at a time when it looked as if they were hopelessly out of it.

They have come from away behind and came on with such persistence and such courage after a bad start that no matter what happens in the next game, or perhaps in the next two games, they have demonstrated that they have what baseball uncouthly calls "the guts."

Cicotte Is Hero.

Cicotte's exhibition this afternoon was proof that the reports of his baseball demise, like the historic death of Mark Twain, had been greatly exaggerated. He pitched with superior cunning, holding the Reds to seven hits, while behind him the Sox were playing with surprising brilliancy.

They drove old Harry Sallee, the slim left-hander of the Reds, from the box in the fifth, although Sallee beat them in the second game of the series. Ray Fisher and Adolfo Luque, right-handers, held them after their assault on Sal, but the Reds could not break through the barriers of the "shine ball." "Shoeless Joe" Jackson, the long-legged Carolinian who has not been an exactly dazzling figure in the series, battered in the first two runs behind Cicotte. John Collins, another veteran, who has been playing only against left-handers, took a back part in the charge of the Sox, but it was E. Collins' work that stood out.

RECESS CAN CLEAR DECK FOR COUNCIL

10-Day Adjournment of Industrial Conference, While Mass of Plans Are Sorted, Would Facilitate Progress, Says White.

PUBLIC'S DELEGATES MAY GET TOGETHER

Such Men as Judge Gary and John Spargo Agree On Many Proposals. Women Are United for Child Welfare Standards.

By WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE.
(Copyrighted, 1919, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
An adjournment for ten days is more than possible at the end of the first week's activities of the Industrial Conference. This adjournment will be a hopeful sign. It will indicate that the members of the conference take their duties seriously and that they desire to digest the mass of proposals coming down upon them. This adjournment is not agreed upon but it is seriously discussed.

Mass of Proposals. The proposal will be made today or on Saturday, after the mass of proposals which have deluged the general committee has been sorted and is ready for consideration. So far, the mass has been so great that the committee could do little more than sort over and catalogue the proposals. They do not come from cranks generally, but from responsible commercial bodies, from college professors, from State organizations of innumerable kinds.

Public Group May Unite. In the meantime, the public group, which will be between the two millstones of the right and the left, has decided to unite if possible upon a majority report but to defer presenting it until it is evident what the upper and nether millstones are doing. The public group represents all sorts of divergent opinions, it is getting a rather unmistakable group consciousness, even with men as far apart as Judge Gary and John Spargo, who, by the way, agree in many proposals, and its group consciousness will be as definite as that of labor or capital if the conference continues.

The women of the public group are, first of all, for child welfare standards to be adopted and regulations for hours and conditions of labor for women in industry to be secured in whatever agreement is reached, and the contention of the women will be accepted by the public group and naturally endorsed by labor, so that capital can hardly afford to oppose these demands of the women. It may be assumed, therefore, that if anything at all comes out of the conference women and children in industry will be protected. And the fact that the conference is going so seriously at its work seems to indicate that real results will come even if it should adjourn.

LONG DEBATE IN SENATE BREWING OVER SHANTUNG

France Blocks Lodge's Efforts to Expedite Action.

A long siege of debate is in prospect for the Shantung amendment to the peace treaty, which seeks to voice the disapproval of the Senate of the award by the Peace Conference of China's richest province to Japan. The final vote on the amendment probably will not be taken before the end of next week.

Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, made an unsuccessful effort in the Senate yesterday to expedite action on the amendment by having the debate put off until the rest of the treaty text has been read. He was blocked in this by Senator France, of Maryland, who is against the Shantung award, against the league of nations, and against the whole treaty.

ASK $50 MINIMUM AS SAILOR'S WAGE

Increased pay for naval officers and men so that the lowest grade would receive approximately $50 a month. Instead of $32.60, as at present, was recommended to the House Naval Affairs Committee yesterday by Admirals Washington, chief of operations, and Wilson, commander of the Atlantic fleet.

IRISH PROBLEM PLANS RUSHED

British to Make Effort for Permanent Solution This Month.

London, Oct. 8.—Definite plans to rush a settlement of the Irish problem were discussed at yesterday's meeting of the cabinet. It was learned today. It was decided that when Parliament reconvenes on October 22 the government will press it to make an effort for a permanent solution of Ireland's case, and a committee will be appointed to decide the details.

The ministers agreed that it would be fatal to continue the present stalemate and also that government by force in Ireland is futile. The cabinet is said to have agreed not to force Ulster into the proposed Irish parliament. It is believed the government will propose to exclude the six Ulster counties from the scope of the new home rule bill, though the latter will contain a proviso by which any of them can be a vote of the electors join the rest of Ireland and be represented in the parliament at Dublin.

From evidently inspired sources comes the word that the government will attempt to induce the Sinn Feiners to acquiesce in the new plan, but there is small encouragement in that direction thus far, the Sinn Feiners seeming irreconcilable to any working agreement with England and insisting upon their demand for an independent Irish republic. They will have nothing to do with any schemes for home rule, demanding complete separation from England and the British Empire as a whole.

60 Planes Racing Over the Country in 5700 Mile Dash

Major D. H. Coissey, Sergeants W. H. Nevitt and Virgil Thomas Killed in Two Crashes; Assistant Secretary Of War Crowell Has Narrow Escape in Fall at Roosevelt Field; Three Machines Wrecked; One Downed by Fire.

New York, Oct. 8.—Three fatalities and numerous lesser accidents marked the first day of the great transcontinental air derby over a course of approximately 5,704 miles, between New York and San Francisco.

The victims in today's crashes were Sergt. W. H. Nevitt, Maj. D. H. Crissey and Virgil Thomas. Sergt. Nevitt was an observer on the plane piloted by Col. Gerald Brant, which crashed from a height of forty feet in trying to make landing at Deposit, N. Y. Nevitt was caught under the motor and died shortly after reaching the hospital. Col. Brant also was seriously injured.

Two Instantly Killed. Major Crissey and Sergt. Thomas were instantly killed when their plane fell 100 feet at Buena Vista landing field, near Salt Lake City. Assistant Secretary of War Crowell had a narrow escape when the machine in which he went up with Lieut. Cleary fell 150 feet at Roosevelt Field. Neither was hurt, however, and Mr. Crowell said, although it was his first flight, he would try again.

Lieut. D. E. Gish's plane caught fire and was forced down at Canadota, N. Y. Lieut. Gish and his passenger, Capt. de Laverne, aviation attaché of the French Embassy, landed safely.

63 Planes Start. Brig. Gen. Leo Charlton, aviation attaché of the British Embassy, also was put out of the race by the fall of his Bristol plane at Interlaken, near Cayuga Lake. He, too, escaped injury, but the machine was wrecked.

Lieut. W. R. Taylor was forced down near Nicholson, Pa. Lieut. R. C. Kirkpatrick was forced down at Vernon, N. Y., by compass derangement, and is to return to Roosevelt Field, Mineola, to make a new start tomorrow.

Forty-seven machines got away from Mineola today and sixteen from San Francisco. Each entrant is to make a round trip from coast to coast.

Some of the planes seemed to make immediate attempts to break the world speed records, a few of them attaining 150 miles an hour almost at once.

The planes started at about two minute intervals, under ideal weather conditions. Assistant Secretary of War Crowell sent them off. Of those leaving the Long Island field two caused furies among the spectators by flying so low at the start that they seemed in danger of striking some of the onlookers.

Immediately after taking the air the fliers ascended to an altitude of 5,000 feet, which is about the height they expect to maintain throughout the race.

Brig.-Gen. William Mitchell, chief of the race, said that the planes were in good condition and that the race was well managed.

The Department of Justice, it was made plain yesterday, feels that it has received scant co-operation from Congress in its fight against the excessive living costs. None of the remedial legislation it sought at the outset of its campaign has been adopted, and although Congress has talked much on the subject of the cost of living, it has done nothing.

Mr. Palmer, it was said, will soon issue a report on the cost of living. The Attorney General will also make a report on the cost of living. The Department of Justice will also make a report on the cost of living. The Department of Justice will also make a report on the cost of living.

Welfare Work Changed. Welfare work now carried on in army camps by the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus and other organizations will be taken over by the army, October 31 and will be in command of post commandants.
